The Beacon for Patient Safety in North Carolina

2010 Quality Data Summit Exhibitor Program

Since its founding in 1949, the North Carolina Society of Anesthesiologists (NCSA) has been an organization of physicians committed to educational advancement, patient safety, and the best possible medical care for the people of North Carolina. The Society has been an important voice in medicine at both the state and national levels, and it remains North Carolina's strongest advocate for patient safety.

The NCSA is hosting its first Quality Data Summit on January 23, 2010. The event will be held at The Umstead Resort and Spa in Cary, North Carolina. This event is designed to give physicians, practice managers and hospital administrators practical tools to deal with the impending changes to healthcare delivery and reimbursement. This day long program will focus on the need for quantitative data for physicians, accountable-care organizations and proposed federal and state changes to health care.
